Investment thesis

• Bayer AG (Bayer), based in Leverkusen, Germancy, manufactures products that include cardiovascular, oncology, haematology and ophthalmology drugs, overt-the-counter (OTC) medications, animal health products and crop-protection products. In September 2016, Bayer announced the acquisition of US-based Monsanto Co. (Monsanto), which will make Bayer the world's largest seed and agricultural chemical company.
• Even though Bayer's leverage will increase owing to the Monsanto acquisition, we expect strong performance of its Pharmaceutical segment in the short term, which combined with geography¬ical diversification and strong access to capital markets, should outweigh any negatives.

Key risks

• The company-specific risk is influenced by two factors: the environment specific to that com¬pany, and the quality of its management. The most effective way to reduce company-specific risks is to diversify across a range of bonds — in other words, to seek portfolio diversification.
• Interest rate and currency risks have to be con¬sidered before investing in this bond. The price of the bond will most likely suffer if the general yield level of the US dollar yield curve shifts up or company specific risk perception increases.
