Investment strategy

The portfolio has a strong bias to growth assets and some exposure to defensive assets. The allocations to these assets are actively managed within defined ranges, in accordance with MLC's changing view of potential risks and opportunities in investment markets. The portfolio is broadly diversified across mainstream asset classes. It uses mainly passive investment managers for growth assets and active managers for defensive assets. These managers invest in many companies and securities in Australia and overseas.

Quarter highlights

Key contributors to performance for the quarter ended 30 September 2023 are:

- In another volatile quarter, there were negative returns in share markets and all maturity bonds. The exposure to short maturity bonds, inflation-linked bonds and enhanced cash helped cushion the negative returns.
- The short maturity strategy returned +1.3%, the inflation-linked bond strategy returned +1.0% and the enhanced cash strategy returned +1.4%.

Note: Returns for the asset classes above are before fees and tax.

Performance relative to benchmark

The portfolio's return objective is to provide a return that meets its benchmark (before fees) over 4 year periods. Over the 4 years to 30 September 2023, the portfolio has produced a return of 4.3% pa which is 0.1% above its benchmark (before fees).
